

TechoLED Partners With BubblyNet

Introducing Smart Technology To The Entire Architectural Line.

TechoLED is an independent lighting manufacturer, based in Brooklyn, NY. Specializing in delivering simple, functional high-end architectural luminaires. Innovation is at the forefront of their product line, which is constantly being expanded to meet the ever-evolving needs of customers.

TechoLED serves commercial and government customers, ranging from office, education, retail, medical, hospitality and industrial buildings. TechoLED introduces its partnership with BubblyNet, a technology company dedicated to smart building automation and putting the environment under one's control.

With this strategic collaboration, TechoLED introduces innovative, easy-to-install and use Smart Lighting for the entire Architectural Product line. Bringing architectural luminaires to life with full automation and human-centric lighting.
